NOTHER PLOT

To Assassinate the Imperial Family of Russia.

Notorious Nihilist Leader Arrested at Warsaw.

Documents Implicating Persons High in the Czar's Favor Found on His Person.

Sensational Rumor from St. Petersburg—Maybrick's Friends Working Hard to Secure Her Pardon—Tolstoy in Constantinople—Foreign Notes.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The arrest of the notorious nihilist leader, Pierra Gross, at Warsaw, has been predictive of disclosures far more startling than any of the alarming revelations which have come to the police within the last few days, appalling as they have been.

Dramatic Evidence.

From letters and documents found concealed in his clothing the most damning evidence is obtained against persons high in imperial favor and authority, contemplating, not the assassination of the czar alone, but the murder of the entire reigning family as well.

Many Conspirators Arrested.

Already many of the conspirators have been taken into custody and their still at large are under espionage of the police.

The police officials to the end of the investigation, when they will be able to bring to their death.

Several of the implicated persons were apprehended while attempting to leave the country.

LATEST FROM SPAIN.

Correspondence Seem to Have Revolutions on Hand Ready for Use.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The country from which the most startling rumors are launched, that now is Spain. Two or three new ministries are formed there daily, if one can believe confident correspondents, and revolutions are kept up to be produced when a new subscriber is demanded.

This is the latest.

The last story is that the late fire at the opera house, supposedly due to the mismanagement of the electrical lighting apparatus, was a murderous plot to create a panic, during which the queen and the Infanta Isabella were to be shot by personal endeavor if fire could not be produced.

Clericals and Liberals have seized upon the occasion to dilate upon their inherent wickedness with as much zest as if they believed the story.

This is the tendency of Republicanism.

The former, and may be which as an instance of what terrible deeds the Reds are capable of. The latter faction charge the clergy with desiring to remove the mother of the young king because she is a foreigner and cannot be ruled by the people as readily as is thought desirable.

Has a Will of His Own.

The mind of the infant in march must be formed while it is sufficiently plastic.

Already the young spring of royalty shows tendencies toward independence and will, and the king's father, who is not placed at once under proper guardianship he can never be so well as an adult.

A BARON'S WIFE

He Comes to America for Her, but She Refuses to Return.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 4.—Kathleen Bruce Austin, an intelligent, well-bred Scotch woman, reached this city some months ago and became a domestic. She was very melancholy, and being found weeping one day, told her story. She married Sir Francis Austin, a baronet of Aberdeen, Scotland, two years ago, but on account of ill treatment, left him and came to this country, bringing her babe. She said that she was wronged money, and the family assisted her with means to have the babe buried. Acting upon their advice, she buried the babe. He came here to see her. He went to Olney, had the child's body exhumed and took it to New York. He then returned home, and is now trying to get his wife to return to Scotland with him, but she refuses.

A SNOWSLIDE

Occurs on the West Side of the Sierra Nevada.

At Least Seven Lives Known to Have Been Lost.

Others May Be Buried in the Drift—Four Dwellings and a Catholic Church Destroyed by the Enormous Wave of Snow—It Is Feared Another Avalanche, of the Same Kind, Is About to Descend into the Valley.

SIERRA CITY, Cal., Jan. 6.—An enormous quantity of snow suddenly tumbled down the mountain side here Friday, bearing everything before it, and causing the death of at least seven persons. For a day or two past fears had been entertained that a huge mass of snow, which had accumulated at what is known as Butte's ridge, might give way, should a further fall take place. The weather had, however, remained clear, and people were slowly becoming reassured.

Had No Time to Escape.

Just before noon Friday, however, the citizens suddenly heard a subdued rushing sound, as if of strong wind among trees. On looking up toward Butte's ridge they saw their danger, and every body took to flight. Those in the immediate track of the slide, however, had not sufficient time to make their escape, and of these seven were overwhelmed.

The Victims.

The victims are as follows:

Mrs. Rich, with her little son and daughter.

Miss Ryan, of Downsville.

Mrs. J. T. Mooney and daughter.

Miss Ethel Lang.

The Enormous Force.

The force of the snowslide was so great that it is difficult to describe. It snapped like twigs. Four houses were crushed flat and the Catholic church was also reduced to ruins.

Bodies That May Be Increased.

Besides those whose names are given several were caught by the landslide and one Chinaman and a little girl are still buried. It is not known whether the bodies of the others were recovered. Two of the victims were alive when dug out of the snow, but died very soon.

Feared of Another Avalanche.

It is feared that another tremendous bank of snow near Butte's ridge may give way. Should it do so, still greater disaster is certain to ensue.

HEAVY RAINS.

Reported from Missouri—Rivers Over Their Banks—Much Damage Done.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 6.—The following was received Saturday afternoon from Piedmont, Mo.:

The heaviest rains have prevailed in this section for several days, and the water has been rising rapidly. It is expected that the bottom lands on either side of the river will be flooded. Every farm is entirely inundated, fences washed away and much stock destroyed. The mills of the Wayne Lumber company, located on the river, are in danger. The place, were entirely under water. They lost much of their lumber.

A treble 150 feet long was washed out of the railroad track five miles south and no trains have passed since. The water is rising rapidly, and it is feared that the

Two or three new ministries are formed there daily, if one can believe confident correspondents, and revolutions are kept on tap to be produced when a new subscriber is demanded.This is the Latest.*The last story is that the late fire at the opera house, supposedly due to the mismanagement of the electrical lighting apparatus, was a murderous plot to create a panic, during which the queen and the Infanta Isabella were to be got rid of by personal endeavor if fire could not be produced.*Clericals and Liberals have seized upon the occasion to dilate upon each inherent wickedness as much as they if they believed the story.*This is the tendency of Republicanism in the future, and may be taken as an instance of what terrible deeds the Reds are capable of. THE CLIMAX.

Wednesday, - - January 6, 1890.

Mrs. James Deatherage is dangerously sick.

Eleven years ago the Richmond Herald was started.

Mr. Harvey Parrish, sick for the first time in his life, is better and will soon be out.

Mr. John Mershon fired two shots at supposed burglars, in the vicinity of Mr. S. Englemer's residence Sunday night.

As guard of Miss Ella Lee Royce, Mr. S. Q. Royce will rent 70 acres of land at "Old Town," on Wednesday, 15th.

Crooke, Bennett & Urmston have something to say in this issue that may save you to per cent. if you owe them any thing.

A meeting of the Equal Rights Association will be held this afternoon at the Good Templars Hall, on Main Street, at 3 o'clock. All members are earnestly requested to be present.

John H. Woodcock, a prominent citizen of Garrard county, who died recently, was a brother of Nath Woodcock, the well known traveling man, nephew of Robert Woodcock, of this place, and cousin of Mrs. C. E. Smith.

Old Fellows.

Election of officers by Madison Lodge, No. 14, I. O. O. F., Richmond: John Allan, Noble Grand; J. F. Stone, Vice Grand; C. R. Rader, Secretary; J. E. Greenleaf, Treasurer.

Bargains.

Messrs. Crooke, Bennett & Urmston offer unusual bargains in heavy goods, as will be seen by reference to their large advertisement elsewhere in this issue. The warm weather has left too many winter goods upon their hands. Call and see them.

In Good Company.

The National Journalist, of Chicago, says: "An article on Horace Greely, by Murat Halstead, Peruvian Newspapers, by Hon. John Hicks, of Kansas, Minister to Peru, Progress of Journalism in Kentucky, by French Tipton, are among the many good things promised us for our January number."

Prof. Blanton Hurt.

Prof. R. L. Blanton, of Nicholasville, was in the fearful wreck on the C. & O. at White Sulphur. He had an eye knocked out and his face terribly bruised. Prof. Blanton came from Fayetteville, Va., and is now the assistant to Prof. Frank T. Catlin, Principal of the Nicholasville Nicholasville High School—Nicholasville Journal.

Knight of Honor.

Election of officers by Richmond Lodge K. of H., No. 515: F. W. Miller, Dictator; P. M. Pope, Vice Dictator; W. H. Sims, Assistant Dictator; John P. M. Taylor, Past Dictator; R. L. Gentry, Financial Reporter; Ed Rowland, Reporter; James Alman, Guide; C. E. Smith, Sentinel. The lodge is more prosperous than it has ever been.

Fine Farm Sold.

Mr. Jonathan T. Estill has sold his farm of 312 acres, five miles out on the Speedwell turnpike. Mr. A. Black, of Kentucky, is the purchaser at $18,000. The survey will be made to-day. This farm is opposite the C. R. Estill farm recently sold at $50 per acre.

Madison continues to receive good substantial citizens from other counties.

Court Day.

Auctioneer Z. E. Bush reports only 200 cattle on the market, and they were common. Only 50 sold, and they went at the low price of $15 to $25 cents. There were only 10 to 15 broke mules sold out of the 200 or more on the market. They went at $90 to $135. No horse trade to speak of. Large crowd, but "the worst day anybody ever saw."

Sale of Land and Stock.

Mrs. Nancy B. Jones at Foxtown has decided to sell her farm, stock, crop, farming implements and household goods. The sale is fixed for January 23. See advertisement. Mrs. Jones will spend some time in Kansas City with her son. The land adjoins that of the Clays, Bennetts, Irvines, &c. and the farm is one of the best in the county. Close to churches, schools, post-office and other necessary institutions.

Skipped.

The dentist who raised the trouble with Dr. Cornelison skipped the city of Chattanooga, Thursday night, leaving only his creditors to mourn his hasty departure. He goes "unseen, unheard, unthought of" to "other fields and pastures new." And it is more than intimated impelled by a healthy fear of the man he had by wronged and urgent creditors. The history of the gallows of Heman, like other history, repeats itself.

The Kentucky Girl Marries.

The Philadelphia Times says of Martin Van Buren Bates, the Kentucky giant: Captain M. V. Bates, better known as Barnum's Kentucky Giant, was married on Monday in Troy. He stands seven feet eight inches in height, and weighs about four hundred pounds. His wife is nearly three feet shorter and weighs a little more than one hundred pounds. Both are in comfortable circumstances, and Bates owns several fine farms.

News From the Almanac.

Jackson day, January 8th, falls on Wednesday—to-day. Ground-hog day, February 2nd, Sunday. St. Valentine's day, February 14th, Friday. Washington's birthday, February 22nd, Saturday. April Fool day, April 1st, Thursday. St. John the Baptist's day, June 24th, Tuesday. Independence day, July 4th, Friday. Christmas, December 25th, Thursday. St. John the Evangelist's day, December 27th, Saturday. No eclipse this year, visible in America.

New Drug Firm.

Mr. C. E. Smith has sold his drug business, corner Main and First streets, to Messrs. Wm. Powers and First Hagans, and the invoice was begun yesterday. Mr. Smith will return to, or rather continue in, his favorite business, dealing in mountain lands. Mr. Hagans was late of the firm of Collins & Hagans, furniture. Mr. Powers is a son of Mr. John Powers, a prosperous farmer of the southern side of the county. Mr. Lowry will continue as prescriptionist.

Masonic.

Officers elected for Madison Lodge, No. 185, at Kirtleyville: John W. Moore, W. M.; S. R. Ragen, S. W.; A. J. Rader, J. W.; J. A. Stapp, Sec'y.; N. B. C. Treas.; O. J. Moberly, S. D.; J. T. Long, J. D.; Henderson Wheeler, S. & T. Daniel Boone Lodge, No. 454, at Foxtown: Sanford Oldham, W. M.; Wm. Bennett, S. W.; C. T. Langford, J. W.; E. P. Millon, Treas.; J. N. Baxter, Sec'y.; C. A. Franklin, S. D.; Thos. Williams, J. D.; Heywood Jones, S. & T.

Caught at It.

When Jailer Maupin called the roll, Monday night, he discovered that one prisoner answered twice. Search showed that one George Hurley, colored, charged with receiving stolen goods, was missing. He was found at the top of the building. During the day, he had secured an iron bar from a stairway and prized open a partition door leading up to another corridor where he was locked up to another corridor that had an open door. He won't get away now.

Gene to Tates Creek.

Mr. M. F. Wharton, of this county, who, in partnership with Mr. John M. Watson some time since purchased property at Tates Creek for the establishment of a saw mill, has bought out the latter's interest, and will remove with his family to Tates Creek, to-day. He will immediately commence the erection of a large saw mill and hopes to have it in operation in a few months. Mr. Watson, 27th.

A Ripper.

It is a little old, but here is a Lancaster telegram that continues to go to the root: Six Madison county negroes loaded with whisky tried to raise a row near Fort Estill on board the K. C. train to-day, and party succeeded. Conductor Shea, in attempting to collect fare, insulted their dignity, and a general fight ensued. About ten shots were exchanged, when United States Deputies W. G. Dunlap and Walker Landrum interfered with their rifles, which ended the affray. Two of the negroes were badly shot by a brakeman named Sam. Gentry. Ladies on the train were badly frightened.

Thanks Amply Deah Boy.

Mr. F. D. Thompson, representing P. Lorillard & Co., Jersey City, manufacturers of the celebrated Climax tobacco, was here Saturday. Seeing our sign he walked up and remarked that he felt much at home, as Climax was a name entirely familiar to him. Mr. Thompson says that P. Lorillard & Co. is the oldest and largest tobacco factory in the world, dating back 135 years. Within the past 23 years, they have paid internal revenue taxes to the amount of $8,000,000.

The gentleman appeared not to be shaky about the quality of his tobacco, or even the quantity, for he opened up his grip and gave all the boys in the county a handful, and they say it "chaws mighty well."

The Young Ladies and The Engine.

Friday afternoon Misses Mary Shepard and Sallie Wilmore, two of our popular young ladies, were walking on the railroad trestle near Mrs. Sarah Crooke's residence when the yard engine came thundering about the curve. The engine was going at the rate of about six miles an hour and had nearly reached the young ladies before they were aware when the engineer reversed as quickly as possible. Miss Wilmore jumped to the ground and Miss Shepard climbed down on the lower post of the trestle and was released with a chair and a plank from her unpleasant position.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

Madison continues to receive good substantial citizens from other counties.

On Wednesday, January 8th, 1890, just three quarters of a century ago to-day, the beautiful Plains of Chalmotte, four miles below the city of New Orleans, were a scene of carnage and desolation. Early in the morning of that memorable day, General Sir Edward Pakenham, with 12,000 British regulars marched against a small army of militia and Kentucky and Tennessee riflemen, supplemented with the small band of the pirate La Fitte, had entrenched himself behind an earth-work. At 6 o'clock the battle began and at 9 o'clock—three hours, General Pakenham was killed, General Gibbs, second in command, was mortally wounded, General Keane was disabled, General Lambert withdrew the shattered forces, leaving 300 killed, 1,400 wounded, and 500 prisoners. Thus closed the war of 1812.

Removed.

Mr. D. R. Forman and family have removed to the Jarman residence on lower Main street, of late occupied by Mr. R. L. Gentry and family. Mr. Gentry has removed to the house on Second street, occupied by Mr. C. D. Patie and family, and they have removed to the new residence lately occupied by Mr. D. R. Forman. Mr. Forman has removed to the McCreary residence vacated by Mr. Forman and Mr. R. C. Stockton. Mr. Stockton will occupy his new residence on 4th avenue. Mr. Robert R. Burnam and family have vacated the Jarman house on Main street, and the same will be occupied by Mrs. Dr. Walker and daughter, Mrs. Green Clay, Mr. W. S. Duncan and family have taken the Herndon cottage next to the Patterson house, and Squire Wm. Willis and family take the Clay house out on Main street vacated by Mr. D. R. Forman. Mr. Burnam and family are at Mr. W. B. Smith's while he is at Frankfort. Mr. Charley Waller and family have taken the lower part of the Misses Harcourt's house. Mrs. Bettie Green has rented the Pigg residence out on West Main street near the limits.

A Coincidence.

On Tuesday night, Mr. William Benton, of Waco, had a vivid dream. In substance he was in Frankfort, and it occurred to him to drop in and see the Legislature. He was astonished to find Hon. A. T. Chennault performing on a piano in the middle of the House of Representatives. He was playing "Home, Sweet Home," and singing it at the top of his voice. When he had finished there was great applause. Mr. Chennault then announced that there was a mighty good old Baptist hymn which he could not sing, but there was a young lady in "visitors" gallery who could sing it to perfection, and if the House would permit, or rather, request, he would bring her in. He said that all the members, who could sing at all, could join in the chorus. Accordingly, the young lady appeared and sang while Mr. Chennault played the accompaniment. The nearly all the members taking part. The applause which followed was so great that Mr. Benton awoke to find his remarkable scene only a dream, and nothing more.

Mr. Benton's surprise can scarcely be imagined when he received THE CLIMAX a few hours later, and read this announcement in the personal column: "Hon. A. T. Chennault went to Frankfort last week, to aid in setting the new Legislature to music."

There was certainly no conspiracy between us and Mr. Benton, and we were as much surprised at his dream as he was by the notice. Not knowing for what purpose Mr. Chennault had come to Frankfort, we sent to Mr. Benton, just happened to strike the key-note.

What Goes With The Men Who Hold Office?

Madison county has existed for a century and a half, besides its own necessary offices, has filled numerous others. There should now be a long list of ex-officials, yet how small the number, elected by the people, to be found in the county. The office of County Judge affords not a man, and that of County Attorney but one—Judge Scott. Capt. R. B. Terrell is the only one left of all the former Circuit Clerks, and Mr. James Terrell the only one of the County Clerks. Of the Jailers only Mr. Samuel Diggerstaff is left. So far as we can recall there is only one Coroner. The office of Assessor is more prolific, furnishing three—Messrs. Thomas Thorpe, Thomas Henry and Andrew Broadhead. There is no ex-County Surveyor, and we believe but one County Superintendent of Public Schools—Mr. J. D. Hamilton. Of the Sheriffs, the record is better, as we recall L. N. Hill, S. Parrish, P. P. Ballard, N. Jones, P. Smith, C. M. O'Connell, Samuel Diggerstaff, C. M. Deatherage, and J. B. Willis. Madison has furnished five members of Congress, but she has now no ex-Congressman. She has furnished several Speakers of the Kentucky House of Representatives, but only one remains—McCreary. In the matter of State Senators the list is comparatively full, and we have mentioned—R. J. White, John Bennett and John D. Harris. The ex-Representatives are numerous—C. M. Clay, Curtis F. Burnam, J. B. McCreary, J. Speed Smith, Phil Roberts, J. R. Burnam, W. T. Tevis. Three died last year—Malcolm C. Mather and J. B. Willis, and Robert R. Harris.

Of seven or eight Grand Masters of several orders only one remains—Mr. Demaree.

Keep Your Eye Picked.

Four years ago to-day, January 8th, the anniversary of that memorable event when Old Hickory Jackson valiantly fought the life out of that "Blasted Hengistman" Pakenham, on the Plains of Chalmotte, Richmond and Madison county, and all the country herabouts and elsewhere were visited by the worst blizzard ever known outside of the North-west.

The winter had been mild. No snow had fallen, except a slight one three days before, and a thermometer had averaged but 32° in October, 42° in November, and 36° in December. In fact six degrees above zero, in December, was the coldest weather that had come that winter. At the same time some days in December sent the mercury up to 60°. There had been considerable frost and a good deal of rain. As the weather then was much like that of the present winter, it would not be surprising if we were again caught napping.

About 11 o'clock in the forenoon of that night, January 8th, snow began to fall. As night approached the wind increased and by 9 o'clock a veritable anticyclone blizzard with extravagant gusts of wind, blowing from the north, set in. It was a howler and a hummer, and a ripper and a roarer. It would have commanded respect even in Texas, where the historic North comes like an army with banners, or a Woman's Rights Convention. By midnight it was all an able-bodied man could do to travel a couple of hundred yards up Main street. A number of gentlemen who resided in the suburbs could not go home. The thermometer which stood about 40° in the forenoon, sank rapidly towards zero, and continued until the second morning, when it halted at 14½ below zero. The wind continued high all night and day, and the snow drifted higher than ever before known in this country. It was a deep snow, not more than six inches if evenly distributed, but drifts seven and eight feet high were found in every direction.

The 6 o'clock train North, went out in the morning, and the 11 o'clock train from the North, came in, but the 11 o'clock train from the South stuck in a snow bank near Duncan. An engine was sent out to the rescue and it too got fast in the snow. Still another engine started North, but stuck fast just outside the town limits. The Lexington stage did not attempt to leave. The Irvine hitch proceeded a few miles and found two ladies and a horse and buggy snowed under, and it was with difficulty that they were rescued. A hearse with a coffin was abandoned just at the town limits on the Lexington pike. For more than a mile out, the pike was covered with four to seven feet of snow, reaching from fence to fence, while the pastures on each side hadn't enough snow to cover the grass. A farmer near town reported the snow eight feet deep in the vicinity of his farm, not a fence or gate-post being visible. Persons who found their way into town reported vehicles of all kinds abandoned along the road. The wind was as penetrating as it was cold, and houses that were thought to be proof against such an invasion had more or less snow blown into them.

For a long time, however, and other animals froze to death in various parts of the county. One farmer lost 17 fat hogs out of a lot of 52. They averaged 250 pounds. Two cattle each on two different farms were reported frozen.

The blizzard began in the Northwest and swept round the world to the south into Florida. The lowest temperature recorded was 40° in Idaho. The cold was unprecedented in the South. The sugar cane roots were damaged in Louisiana and oranges were frozen in central and northern Florida.

The young lady guests of Mrs. Buckner, who received with her, were sister, Mrs. Calhoun, of Virginia, Miss Lennie Duke, of Louisville, Miss Kate Hays, of Richmond, Va., and Miss Belle Haldeman, of Louisville. Mrs. Buckner was a dress of cream colored satin, front of white, and gold plated collar. Miss Calhoun, a handsome white silk dress, covered with lace. Miss Hays a dress of silk green crepe de chine. Miss Duke looked very charming in a dress of faded crepe and heliotrope velvet. Miss Haldeman was a dress of cream-colored satin, the over-dress of embroidered crepe de chine. The following ladies also assisted Mrs. Buckner in receiving: Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. George Adams, Mrs. Harvey Myers, Mrs. Norman, Mrs. Morris Belknap, Mrs. Judge Lindsay, Mrs. Judge Lewis, Mrs. Judge Bennett, Mrs. Wm. Scott, Miss Mamie Scott, Mrs. Taretton, Miss Alice Clay, of Lexington, Mrs. Wm. Safford, Mrs. Ed Hensley, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Alex Grant and Miss Effie Hill.

A Washington special of Friday says: The tea given by Justice and Mrs. John M. Harlan this evening to introduce their daughter, Miss Laura, into the social world, was a brilliant occasion and drew to the handsome home on Meridian Heights many of the most distinguished people of the nation. The Chief Justice and Justice of the Supreme Court and their families, the Cabinet officers and their families, the diplomatic circles, the Army and Navy people and hundreds of other prominent persons were at the debut of the lovely young lady. Mrs. Harlan and her daughter were assisted in receiving their guests by Mrs. M. E. Harlan, Miss Woods, daughter of the late Justice Woods; Miss Fuller, daughter of the Chief Justice; Miss Noble and Miss Flagg. Mrs. Harlan wore a black silk dress with corsage bouquet of violets. Miss Harlan wore an exquisite white silk dress of the V-shaped corsage, neck and trimmed with white cord and menterie and bore a beautiful bouquet of La France roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Richard Harlan wore an elegant dress of olive green with white lace trimmings. Justice Harlan and his sons mingled with the guests in the most cordial manner.
